

WE CLAIM:

1. A retractable light shade allowing to be compressed for shipping or stretched up for use as desired is made of fabric sewn into tubular shape; circumferences of both ends of the shade being each encircled
5 with a wire to define an upper frame and a lower frame; multiple eyelets being disposed to the upper end; a fixation lever being provided crossing the diameter of the lower frame; and a non-elongation paper being adhered as a lining to the fabric of the shade.